We feel this information is very important to disclose so everyone has an understanding. Please read it carefully.

Our club embraces the amateur radio tradition – everyone is welcome! We have a very diverse membership, including members that are from different parts of the world! Maintaining NPARC membership status carries two conditions:

- a) membership fees are to be paid annually, and on-time to support club operations
- b) understanding that insolence towards any club member will not be tolerated, as noted in our constitution

In addition, we respect your privacy. NPARC will not disclose your information to third parties without your consent (unless required by law). If you participate in an event, or perhaps volunteer your time in club activities – your name, callsign, or photograph may be published in club publications (e.g. our Feedline, website news). Our volunteers who produce these publications will not publish personal details; information disclosed publicly is very modest.

At anytime, requests for removal on publications, in writing, are more than welcome.
